Dear Debbie,

What a pleasure it is to shower our best wishes on the auspicious Baby Shower day! Heartily we share your joy and, wish for your continuing healthy, joyful motherhood ahead.

The Baby Shower celebration might be relatively modern day event in most countries; it has been followed since the vedic time in India and known as Seemanta according to our Indian friend. Typically the mother is showered with dry fruits, sweets, and gifts to help the baby's growth. A pleasing music is played as baby's ears presumably are already functioning by this time. The pleasant positive vibrations would resonate with baby's rhythm giving her healthy start (and to the mother too!).

With lots of love to you (and John),
