

Hi Charlotte,

We meet every week days in the office. And that might makes you wonder, why this note. Well, tomorrow is the Thanksgiving Day, a holiday.

I have worked for three organizations and you are the most understanding boss I have pleasure working for. Even in situations we disagree you are always considerate. Take that recent instance. You wanted me to go to the out-of-town supplier and I was of the opinion that the issue can be resolved without personally visiting. You patiently listened to my views and let me handle it my way. It didn't work out, and it did take my going there to resolve. On my return, you thanked me for getting the work done without "ahha...see! I told you".

Additionally, you let me and other coworkers take care of our occasional personal needs during working hours.

It is my pleasure to 'thank you' on the Thanksgiving Day. My celebration of the Day would be incomplete if I didn't convey.

You and your family have a wonderful Thanksgiving Day.

Sincerely,

Christie